

EXT. ROADSIDE PULLOUT - DAY

An SUV sits along the roadside, Its single occupant is JACK Wolfe, Early 30s: and he is looking at a map of the forest. The words "TRAINING 43A" are attached to a note on the map. A cell phone rings and rings, and the Jack ignores it. It starts ringing again and Jack reaches for the phone.

Jack answers the phone

JACK

This is Jack Wolfe, how can I help you?

AMY

Hi Jack, this is Amy Warner.

JACK

Oh, Tom Warner's daughter right?

AMY

(Amy laughs sheepishly)
Yeah, that's me.

JACK

What can I help you with Amy?

Amy looks over at George who is pacing in front of the counter.

AMY

Actually, there's a man named George Davis that could really use your help. (beat)

(CONT,D)

He lost his daughter, Ashley, while they were rafting out on the river. The police haven't found anything yet. I was hoping you might be able to help him out with this.

JACK

That sounds terrible. Is he there with you right now?

AMY

Yeah, he's here.

George reaches over and grabs the phone from Amy

GEORGE

Hello? Mr. Wolfe?

JACK

Mr. Davis...

GEORGE

(excitedly)

The Sheriff sent out officers to search the river, but they didn't find anything. I haven't started any search parties and it's been 24 hours. I'm not sure what else to do.

JACK

Sheriff Trelby?

GEORGE

Yeah, do you know him?

JACK

We've worked together before.
(beat) I understand your concern Mr. Davis. I happen to be a search and rescue coordinator and I take my job seriously.

GEORGE

What are you gonna do?

JACK

First I'm going to form a team. All I need from you is the location.

GEORGE

Well, I can show you the location on the map or I can take you there.

JACK

How about we meet tomorrow morning and you can show me.

GEORGE

(George smiles at Amy)

That would be great! Thank you for your help.

THE BROCHURES ON THE COUNTER COME INTO VIEW AND THE FORESTS START TO GROW LARGER UNTIL THEY FILL THE FRAME.

Note

SECOND READ (CROWD ANNOUNCEMENT)

Jack closes the map and turns towards his team of people to get their attention.

(CONT'D)

Can I have everyone's attention please? Quiet down for a minute. Thank you. Some of you have already met George, but I'm going to introduce him again. George is the man whose daughter we are looking for. Half of you will be going South and the other half will be going North down the riverbanks. We will meet back here in 4 hours. It is important that we all stick together. We don't need anyone else getting lost out here. Let's do this people! We're looking for Ashley! Remember that name!

The team applauds and starts splitting up.
